The night was dark you could not see, moon refused to shine. Couple under hardly see, for the moon refused to shine. Couple sitting under a

This arrangement © 1985 SPEBSQSA, Inc.
International copyright secured. All Rights Reserved.
darkness so she said, "I guess I'll go." Boy began to sigh.

looked up at the sky, told the moon his little tale of woe: "Give a guy a break and

Chorus 1

shine on, shine on harvest moon up in the sky, I ain't had no lovin' since January, February, June or July. Snow time ain't no time to stay outdoors and spoon, so shine on,

Shine On, Harvest Moon

Chorus 2

shine on harvest moon... for me and my gal."

"Oh, Mister Moon, won't you shine a little light right down on us while we cuddle in the night? I love her and me, oh, my,... we haven't even kissed since the middle of July, Snow time, it ain't no time to spoon,... and who wants to wait until next June? So, shine on,

Loori

Tag

Oh, you harvest moon,... for me and my gal."

Shine on harvest moon,
Performance Notes

Nora Bayes was born in Los Angeles in 1880 as Dora Goldberg, became a musical comedy star, was married for a time to Jack Norworth and died in Brooklyn, New York in 1928. Jack Norworth, a composer, lyricist and actor, was born in Philadelphia in 1879 and died in California in 1959. Little is known of other songs by Nora Bayes, but Jack Norworth's chief collaborator was Albert Von Tilzer and together they wrote Take Me Out To The Ballgame and a number of lesser known songs.

The front cover of the first edition of Shine On Harvest Moon has a drawing of a moon over a harvest with photographs of Nora and Jack. The song was sung in The Follies of 1908 and has become a favorite song for those who like to sing and harmonize. Virtually everyone has heard it performed at one time or another.

Val Hicks and Earl Moon are premiere arrangers of music in the barbershop style. Val Hicks coached, and created the original barbershop arrangements for, the Osmond Brothers. He is an outstanding composer, retired professor of music, lecturer, music historian and is actively promoting youth outreach programs introducing young people to the joy of singing. Some of his Society-published compositions are: The Showboat Came To Town, I'll Be A Song And Dance Man Again, She Didn't Say No and That Summer When We Were Young. Val is also the arranger who gave us the wonderful arrangement of The Star Spangled Banner. Earl Moon, unfortunately, passed away in the spring of 1996. Earl, was a dearly beloved guru of barbershop harmony, long time chorus director for the Whittier Chapter of the Far Western District, and quartet singer. His wealth of arrangements will always be treasured.

In looking at the arrangement we find that the Intro sets the mood for the lyric of the Verse and should be sung in such a manner as to portray the scenario. The bass melody further captures the moment, with the harmony parts "tip-toeing" aroung the young couple as they witness the unfolding story. Maintain the beat and tempo up to the last part of measure 15 then freely dramatize the story through the downbeat of measure 20. With the lead/tenor pickup notes in measure 20, get right back into the tempo for the rest of the song. You may wish to increase the tempo at Chorus 2 for variety and you might hold the penultimate (next to last) chord in the Tag. The optional notes are given in that chord in case the lead is capable of singing the higher note in good quality. If the lead sings the optional note, then the bass must take his optional note. This collaborative effort by these two icons will be around as long as there are men who sing.

As a final note: Questions about the contest suitability of this or any song/arrangement should be directed to the judging community and measured against current contest rules. Ask before you sing.